My dear Mrs. Carrahan,

Pardon my delay but I have been sick & am hardly able to do anything. It is a pleasure to do this little bit for Clarence & you. I congratulate you upon having a home & strat-with. Relum's success & bright future, you will find happiness & content-ment. You deserve the love & devotion your child gives you. My best wishes for your better. Sincerely your friend

Mary H. Dunn.

Channer Chanakram was a boy of unusual ability & mental capacity.
He demonstrated these qualities during his short school life.
With his mother's instructions he finished the results (7th) grade and entered (1908) the Normal College of this place which at that time had a sub-college grade.

In two year time, including work in Grammar School, he had finished the intermediate-grades, the Junior and part of the Senior, a very remarkable showing for one so young.
It was my pleasure to teach him history & one class in English — although mentally so well equipped & with an absorbing ambition to excel, he was a hard student & demonstrated the truth by his indefatigable efforts, that there is "no royal road to learning".
