

2022 Alabama History Institutes: Grades K-6

Alabama and Early American History

University of Alabama Inservice Center, Tuscaloosa

June 7-9, 2022

Stacey Leatherman, Jefferson County Schools

Samantha Dutton, Jefferson County Schools

This workshop will explore the experiences of Native Americans and others in early Alabama history. Participants will learn how to take the stories of our past and incorporate them into today's classroom. They will leave with a wealth of new resources, insights, and knowledge about the state of Alabama. This workshop will include interactive and immersive field trips, engaging guest speakers, and opportunities for collaboration. Educators will learn new methods for incorporating history across all content areas using primary sources and will leave the workshop ready to lead their classes into the adventure of Alabama history.
