REPORTS
Native American Graves Protection and Repatriation Act (NAGPRA) Update – John Hardin & Raven Christopher

Dr. Hardin announced that the ADAH’s first NAGPRA coordinator, Raven Christopher, will be leaving the agency mid-May due to her family’s relocation out of state. Ms. Christopher gave the following report:

Since its initiation in April 2018, the NAGPRA project has involved upgrading collections storage; improving intellectual control of the collection; initiating digitization of relevant archival collections; and associating funerary objects to the human remains transferred to the University of Alabama in 1986.

In proceeding with the next steps of the project, Kellie Bowers has been promoted to NAGPRA coordinator. The ADAH applied for federal CARES Act funding to support the hiring of two staff members to assist Mrs. Bowers through the end of the year. The team will continue collections management tasks, mainly processing all the digitized material to make it usable for project research and accessible to tribes during consultation. At the completion of that work, the ADAH will begin more focused and in-depth consultation with tribes about the collections.

Ms. Christopher thanked the trustees, Dr. Hardin, and Mr. Murray for their unwavering support throughout this project. Chairman Daves, Dr. Hardin, and Mr. Murray commended Ms. Christopher for her excellent work.

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Action Plan – Steve Murray

Mr. Murray reviewed the ADAH COVID-19 action plan, which was distributed to the trustees in advance of the meeting. The plan was created in March for the agency’s use in preparing for and responding to the COVID-19 outbreak. Most employees have returned to work, but the building remains closed. The Governor’s most recent emergency order extended the closure of museums through May 22. The agency will soon move into the “Recovery” status of the action plan, which involves executing a phased approach to resuming public access.

Impacts on Programs – Steve Murray

Mr. Murray discussed the impacts of COVID-19 on agency programs in three parts:
1) Services that have been cancelled, reduced, or postponed:
In-person training and site visits for records management cancelled; Visits to potential donors to examine collection items delayed; WSFA collection processing delayed; Digitization reduced; Women’s suffrage exhibit postponed; NAGPRA collection processing delayed; Spring school tours cancelled; Alabama History Institutes cancelled; Public programs through July cancelled; Outgoing loans to other museums suspended; Fundraising campaign for women’s suffrage centennial suspended; Museum store closed; Sixteen facility rentals between mid-March and mid-June cancelled; Montgomery Symphony Pops concert canceled; Volunteer activities canceled; IT work delayed due to inability to order equipment.

Fulfilling requests for forms DD214 for veteran benefits; Providing records to business corporations who need to apply for small business administration loans (via federal CARES act); Reference requests being filled remotely by staff as best as possible; digital assets orders being filled; Registrar & education staff are maintaining strong communication with their respective groups.

3) Services developed or modified in response to the pandemic:
• Alabama History@Home website: Features material created by the ADAH as well as content from history- and humanities-oriented organizations from around the state; Will have long-term value.
• “Collecting a Crisis: Alabama During COVID-19” (COVID-19 documentation project): Individuals will be asked to donate specific materials to document the pandemic, so the agency can effectively tell this story in the future. Most items can be collected online. The initiative will launch by next week.
• Increased capture of content on state websites: To actively collect images of state agency sites, including public health, to document the response of state government to the crisis.
• Remote data logging: A trial arrangement of this new technology was set up just before pandemic. Its equipment monitors humidity and temperature levels throughout building, using ultra-low frequency cellular signals that can get through the cement walls.

The Education Trust Fund (ETF) has a projected rollover amount of $468,717, and the Archives Services Fund (ASF), a rollover amount of $708,090. With the inclusion of miscellaneous funds, the total rollover amount is $1,188,734. Rollover authority was granted to the ADAH and other cultural agencies by the legislature after they made a joint request to roll over funds in the Education Trust Fund (ETF) from FY 2020 to FY 2021. The ADAH has discontinued nonessential spending; eliminated travel; put several job search postings on hold; and canceled developing contracts for conservation and digitization work to prepare for potential budget cuts.

Generated Revenue Summary: The first two quarters of FY 2020 saw revenue meeting or exceeding figures for the prior year, but some sources of generated revenue will drop sharply in the third quarter. Facility rentals will drop zero for the duration of the building’s closure. Records Center revenue is expected to remain steady, though invoicing and payments will likely be delayed into the fourth quarter.

Mr. Murray then called on Frank Brown for the legislative report.

Legislative Report – Frank Brown

Trustees Boyd, Gray, Junkins, and Spruell were all confirmed by the Senate in March. Trustees Boyd and Junkins attended the confirmation hearing, and Trustee Boyd addressed the Senate Confirmations Committee regarding the Board’s ongoing efforts to regain racial diversity among its members at a level proportionate to the state’s population.

The legislature passed two of the largest budgets in state history on last week: $2.3 billion in the General Fund, and $7.2 billion in the Education Trust Fund. The governor is expected to call a special session in the summer to address prisons and other issues. Legislators will also need to determine how to spend the $1.8 billion the state received from Congress in CARES Act relief funding.

Chairman Daves thanked Mr. Brown for his report and then called on Judge Boyd for the Personnel Committee report.
Personnel Committee Report – Delores Boyd
The trustees received their performance appraisal materials for Mr. Murray’s annual evaluation. Trustees should return their completed evaluation forms by Wednesday, June 3. Remembering Archbishop Emeritus Oscar H. Lipscomb
The trustees mourn the passing of Archbishop Emeritus Oscar H. Lipscomb, who died on July 15, following a lengthy period of physical decline. Archbishop Lipscomb joined the Archives’ board in 1977 and served until 2016. He was chairman of the board from 1999 to 2011, during which time Ed Bridges was appointed as Archives director, and the ADAH completed a major building expansion. The trustees along with Mr. Murray expressed their condolences and shared fond memories of Archbishop Lipscomb. A statement released by the ADAH was included in the meeting packets.

REPORTS AND ITEMS OF BUSINESS

Coronavirus (COVID-19) Status – Steve Murray
The ADAH staff continues to develop innovative ways to provide public services, such as online training sessions for state and local government agencies, records management, online workshops, and digital exhibits. The education staff has maintained contact with the K-12 community, providing resources and support for the upcoming school year. Mr. Murray praised the staff on the way it has handled schedule challenges caused by the pandemic.

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) released new guidance on how staff attendance and quarantine should be handled, moving forward. If an employee develops COVID-like symptoms or has been in close contact with someone known to have the virus, then the employee should go through a 14-day quarantine period, regardless of whether they have received a negative test. This new guidance may lead to an increase of ADAH staff working from home. Currently, 25% of the staff routinely work remotely. A copy of the ADPH guidelines was distributed in the meeting packets.

Financial Report – Steve Murray

Fund Status Summary: The summary shows a total cash balance of $2,118,890, as of 06/30/2020. The Education Trust Fund (ETF) has a projected rollover amount of $437,074 and the Archives Services Fund (ASF), a rollover amount of $747,965. With the inclusion of other miscellaneous funds, the total rollover amount is $1,196,966. Additional funds are expected later this year via reimbursements from the CARES Act.

Generated Revenue Summary: The summary shows an immediate, drastic drop in generated revenue between the 1st and 3rd quarters of FY 2020, and between the 3rd quarter of FY 2020 and the 3rd quarter of FY 2019. Reference services are down considerably, and facility use revenue was eliminated due to event cancellations. Records center services has collected only $22,728; however, $46,165 was collected in July. This revenue should hold steady for the 4th quarter, as no public interaction is involved in records center services.
Income and Expenses: The multi-year report shows that FY 2021 appropriations for the General Fund and the Education Trust Fund are at level funding, going into FY 2021.

Chairman Daves thanked Mr. Murray for his report and then called on Frank Brown for the legislative report.

Legislative Report – Frank Brown
The state is continuing to monitor potential federal action on additional pandemic relief and any matching requirements for the state.

Rep. Juandalyn Givan pre-filed a bill for the 2021 legislative session, which will allow for the relocation and transfer of monuments to the Archives or the Alabama Historical Commission. The ADAH is monitoring the situation and will be involved in future discussions.

Rep. April Weaver was appointed director of the U.S. Health and Human Services for the fourth district. Rep. Becky Nordgren is the new revenue commissioner for Etowah County. Rep. Ron Johnson, the longest-serving member of the House, passed away in July.

Chairman Daves thanked Mr. Brown for his report and then called on Mr. Murray to discuss the Statement of Recommitment.

ADAH Statement of Recommitment
Mr. Murray thanked the board for their support of the agency’s Statement of Recommitment, which has received a positive response from both the general public and other historical institutions. Mr. Butler moved that the Board of Trustees formally adopt the ADAH Statement of Recommitment, released on June 23, 2020. Judge Smith seconded, and the motion was carried by unanimous voice vote. Copies of the statement were provided in the meeting packets.

Mr. Murray will participate in upcoming webinars on this topic as well as contribute to articles for the news magazine of the American Association of State and Local History (AASLH). The ADAH is planning several programmatic initiatives to help address the issues of racial injustice and African American history in Alabama.

i. Programmatic Initiatives:
- Digitization projects involving Alabama Supreme Court case files, incarceration records, and other relevant records sets.
- To be a resource to educators, communities, and businesses working to address the history of racial injustice.
- To develop a digital exhibition on African American life in Alabama from 1865 to 1980 that will be displayed in a large kiosk at the ADAH. Additional kiosks can be placed in other locations around the state.
- The History/Now: Conversations on the Past & the Present series began last year and was designed to allow audience participation and dialogue with experts. The first program for this year focused on the recent McGirt vs. Oklahoma ruling by the U.S. Supreme Court, which held that the eastern third of Oklahoma remains under the control of the sovereign Indian nations relocated their under treaty with the U.S.
ii. Internship and Student Worker Programs: Increased staff diversity is one of the objectives of the Statement of Recommitment. Currently, the entire agency staff is 25% African American. The Archives Division is 11% African American, the Museum Division is 6% African American, and the Administrative Division is 64% African American. To improve diversity among the archival and curatorial staff, the agency will be diligent in reaching out to African American graduate and undergraduate students to promote career opportunities in the public history field. Additionally, the full scope of student opportunities at the ADAH is undergoing review. Its existing interactions with students include the following:

- Student worker agreements: The agency has contracts with several public universities, including Auburn, Alabama State, Troy, and Auburn University Montgomery. Students generally work two to three years. Several current staff members are former student workers.
- Discovery internship: An exploratory internship of 150 hours, during which undergraduate students work in various sections of the agency and receive academic credit.
- Project internship: An internship of 150 hours, during which graduate students work on a specific project under sustained supervision by a staff member. This is a paid internship, and students may receive academic credit.
- The agency has employed a small number of high school students on a part-time basis.

Judge Boyd seconded, and the motion was carried by unanimous voice vote.* A deaccession report was included in the meeting packets.
